

Suzanne Rudzinski
Director, Transportation and Regional Programs Division
Office of Transportation and Air Quality
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

Suzanne Rudzinski manages voluntary transportation programs; climate change issues for the transportation sector; and national policy on Clean Air Act conformity requirements. In addition, she manages fuel and fuel additive registration programs and policy for the national vehicle inspection and maintenance program.

Prior to becoming the Director, she spent eight years as a senior manager and executive in the Department of Energy's (DOE) Environmental Management program. She has also been a manager in EPA's hazardous waste, toxic substances, pesticides, and regional operations programs.