

How to Find Reliable HIV/AIDS Treatment
Information on the Internet

HIV/AIDS Treatment E-mail Lists: Alphabetical Listing

For more E-mail lists on HIV/AIDS topics, visit the AEGIS (see entry) Web site:

<http://www.aegis.org/hivinfoweb/top/elists/elists.html>

Or the Critical Path Web site:

<http://www.critpath.org/treat.htm>

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) National Center for HIV/AIDS, STD, and TB Prevention News Update (formerly the AIDS Daily Summary)

About This List: CDC National Center for HIV/AIDS, STD, and TB Prevention News Update is maintained by the CDC National Center for HIV, STD, and TB Prevention. The interconnectedness of tuberculosis, HIV/AIDS, and other sexually transmitted diseases led to the creation of the National Center for HIV, STD, and TB Prevention (NCHSTP) and so the AIDS Daily Summaries was replaced on October 16, 1997, with The CDC NCHSTP Daily News Update. Regular postings to this list include the CDC NCHSTP Daily News Update, conference announcements, clinical trials information, current funding opportunities, and selected Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report (MMWR) articles.

To Subscribe: E-mail listproc@aspensys.com with the command:
subscribe aidsnews <firstname lastname>
in the body of the message.

Home Page: <http://www.cdcnpin.org/news/prevnews.htm>

Gente Poz Discussion List

About This List: Gente Poz is an e-mail discussion list that provides emotional support and medical information for Spanish-speaking people with HIV/AIDS.

To Subscribe: E-mail lists@web-depot.com with a blank subject line and the command:
subscribe aidsnews "Gente Poz"
in the body of the message.

Home Page: http://www.thebody.com/poz/en_espanol/anotate.html

HEPV-L Discussion List

About This List: The HEPV-L mailing list is for discussions of all aspects of chronic hepatitis and related liver problems, including treatment. HEPV-L welcomes discussions of personal experience with chronic hepatitis, whether as a carrier of the virus, or as someone who has had to administer to hepatitis carriers in some fashion. This list is included in this AIDS Treatment document because of the increasing trend of co-infection of HIV/AIDS and hepatitis.

To Subscribe: E-mail listserv@maelstrom.stjohns.edu with the command:
subscribe HEPV-L
in the body of the message.

Home Page: <http://www.ia.net/~webbsite/list.htm>

HIV-DOCS Discussion List

About This List: An Internet discussion list for physicians and other clinicians involved in treating people with HIV. The purpose of this list is to foster the exchange of information among HIV-treating clinicians and researchers. Members of the list are encouraged to post questions, cases, announcements, and findings that may be of interest, and to respond to inquiries as appropriate. This is a closed list. All subscribers must be approved by the list owner and only the members of the list can post messages to the list.

To Subscribe: E-mail HIV-Docs-Approval@Web-Depot.COM. Let the list owner know who you are and where you practice in the body of the message. After your subscription request is approved, you will receive a confirmation message.

Home Page: <http://www.web-depot.com/mailling-lists/hiv-docs.info>

HIV-SUPPORT Mailing List

About This List: An Internet discussion list for emotional support and sharing medical information for people with HIV or AIDS.

To Subscribe: (to the Support Group) E-mail Lists@Web-Depot.COM with the command:
subscribe HIV-Support
in the body of the message.

Home Page: <http://www.web-depot.com/mailling-lists/hiv-support.info>

Journal-Scan

About This List: Journal-Scan is a ready-only listserv that provides a weekly listing of abstracts recently published in medical journals. Abstracts are selected by Canada's Community AIDS Treatment Information Exchange (CATIE), which also provides a commentary on each article.

To Subscribe: E-mail maiser@catie.ca with the command:
subscribe journal-scan
in the body of the message.

Home Page: <http://www.smtl.co.uk/Worl-Wide-Wounds/Common/Journal-scan.html>

Link to most recent articles from:

<http://www.ama-assn.org/special/hiv/library/scan/scan.htm>

LIPIDLIST

About This List: The purpose of this list is to discuss experiences and problems related to metabolic complications of HIV. Discussion topics include lipodystrophy and the changing levels of lipids (triglycerides and cholesterol).

To Subscribe: E-mail listproc@critpath.org with the command:
subscribe lipidlist
in the body of the message.

PAIN-L

About This List: This is a fully moderated (edited) conference/seminar/online magazine. The primary focus of PAIN-L is chronic pain.

To Subscribe: E-mail listserv@sjvum.stjohns.edu with the command:
SUBSCRIBE PAIN-L <Your full name>
in the body of the message.

Home Page: <http://www.pnews.org/painforu.html>

PI-Treat

About This List: This list is for people using any protease inhibitor drug, although the discussion is about antiviral treatments in general.

To Subscribe: E-mail requests@pozlink.com with the following text:
subscribe pi-treat
in the body of the message.

Sci.med.aids

About This List: Sci.med.aids is a USENET newsgroup that discusses AIDS and HIV. A gateway forwards articles posted to sci.med.aids to a BITNET listserv mailing list called AIDS. The thousands of sci.med.aids readers include people with HIV infections, published authors, researchers, public health officials, and interested individuals. Topics discussed include treatment. It is carried in several countries, particularly in the Americas and Europe. Sci.med.aids is moderated by a team. When readers submit an article, it must be approved by two members of the moderation team before it will be posted to the newsgroup.

To Subscribe: E-mail majordomco@wubios.wustl.edu with the command:
subscribe aids <your e-mail address>
in the body of the message.

Home Page: <http://www.aids.wustl.edu/aids/sci.med.aids.faq1.html>

Treatments

About This List: This list is for sharing personal experiences with AIDS and HIV-related treatments. The focus is on human experience, not on research or theory.

To Subscribe: E-mail majordomco@QueerNet.org with the command:
subscribe treatments <your e-mail address> <First name, Last name>
in the body of the message.

Home Page: Address unavailable