

U.S. Department of Energy - Oak Ridge Office
Human Capital Assessment Group
Training Course Bulletin

Course Name: EXECUTIVE LEARNING SERIES - LEADING IN THE 21ST CENTURY: FROM EXHAUSTED TO EFFECTIVE

Course Number: 001639

Session Number: 0006

Description: Dr. James Trinka will be the featured speaker for this Executive Learning Series event. Dr. Trinka will discuss an innovative, research-based approach designed to increase employee engagement by building and exercising 21st century leadership competencies.

Dr. Trinka is the co-author of the book “A Legacy of 21st Century Leadership.” He believes it is possible to un-complicate leadership by focusing on fundamental and meaningful outcomes, accelerating leadership strengths rather than focusing on weaknesses, and carefully considering strategies for creating a leadership climate throughout the organization.

Dr. Trinka has over 30 years experience in learning and development, national security, international affairs, project and program management, information technology, and aviation operations. He is recognized as being an outstanding leader with keen visionary skills who provided foresight in identifying critical success factors needed for improving both leadership effectiveness and employee performance. Dr. Trinka had a distinguished twenty-two-year career as a fighter pilot for the United States Air Force and is currently a technical training director for the FAA. He served previously as the FBI’s Chief Learning Officer and as the Director of Leadership and Organizational Effectiveness for the IRS.

Audience: Senior Executives, Senior Leaders and GS-14 & 15 employees

Vendor: DOE-Headquarters

Instructor: Dr. James Trinka

Date(s): November 18, 2009

Time: 1:30pm – 3:00pm

Location: Building 2714, Rooms C1 – C2

Slots: 90

Cost: No cost

To register:

Access the HCAG homepage and forward a completed electronic Training Request Form <http://www.ornl.gov/tdd/tddreq.htm>.