

Draft Agenda

Batteries and Energy Storage Research Information Meeting October 21, 2011

**All times are in Eastern Daylight Time*

8:00 am	Registration (only pre-registrants will be able to pick up registration information)
9:00 am	Welcome Pat Dehmer , Deputy Director for Science Programs, Office of Science Colin McCormick , Senior Technical Advisor, Office of the Under Secretary
9:15 am	Overview Electrochemical Storage for Transportation Technologies David Howell , Office of Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy, Vehicle Technology Program
9:45 am	Overview Electrochemical Storage Technologies for the Grid Mark Johnson , Advanced Research Projects Agency – Energy
10:15 am	Break
10:45 am	Overview Fundamental Electrochemical Energy Storage Research John Vetrano , Office of Science, Basic Energy Sciences
11:15 am	Overview Batteries and Energy Storage Energy Innovation Hub and R&amp;D Integration Linda Horton , Office of Science, Basic Energy Sciences
11:45 am	Lunch (on your own)
1:30 pm	Opportunity for Comments: What is the right balance between science and engineering research in this area?
2:00 pm	Opportunity for Comments: How can industry best contribute?
2:30 pm	Break
3:00 pm	Opportunity for Comments: Is the proposed research distinct compared to other research and development activities supported by the DOE?
3:30 pm	Opportunity for Comments: Are there underpinning scientific issues in electrochemical energy storage that were not discussed in previous workshops/reports?
4:00 pm	Opportunity for Comments: General comments on the overall DOE program on batteries and energy storage.
5:00 pm	Adjourn
